Acceptance of a simple gift,
in kind and friendly wise,
Is matchfull, with the giuing of
a gift, of greater prise.
Each gift, that euery man shall giue,
such price and value takes,
As he that shall receaue the same,
acceptance thereof makes.
For kind accept makes smalest gifts,
to seeme greatest of all:

And

And hard accept, makes greatest gifts to seeme but very small.
But good accept, the widdowes mites,
(a thing of small account)
All offrings that the rich men gaue,
in value, did surmount.
Heereby, the poore mans sacrifice,
that was a parched cake,
As pleasing was, as all the steemes that sweet incense could make.
Heereby, two handfulls of water,

As welcome was, as iewels rich,
that were most finely wrought.
Heereby, poore Conans nauew rootes,
became a greater gift,
Then was a stately Stallion giuen,
vpon a gainefull drift.
In hope hereof, I boldned was,
to string my bow anew,
And subiect this my second worke
vnto thy friendly view.
The good accept whereof shall be,
the spring-time of my paine:

OF

Of the Eclipses of the Sunne and Moone
this present yeere. 1607.

By interposition of the darke body of the Moone betwixt the lightesome beames of the Sun & our sight, which shall happen the 16 day of February, beeing Monday, at 41 minuts after 7 of the clocke in the morning. When as the sunne will (in some slender sort) become a little darkened on the borders of his globe: As the blimish is small, the cause naturall, and the continuance of no long moment, so the influence cannot bee great, nor the effects neuer deere, or cruell.

Of the first Eclipse of the Moone.

The moone in Virgo, shall at her full, be caught in the shadow of the earth, by which meanes shee shall suffer an Eclipse or losse of light, to the quantitie of one poynt, on tuesday the 3 day of March, 26 minutes after foure of the clocke in the evening.

Of the second Eclipse of the Moone.

There shall be with vs seene this yeere, another Eclipse of the Moone, vpon thursday the 27 of August, at two of the clocke 46 minutes after midnight, the which darkness shall be almost halfe the diamiter of her superficies.

¶ A prediction of Winter.

Sol in ♄ ≈ ♋.

Such seemes the habite of the inferiour rulers of this Winters resolution, (which began the 12 of December last) when not so well affected, as erst in some like season they haue beene: but their dissentious working, vnbinde dissemperance, often stormes, and many duskie cloudes, like to shed downe stoe of moisture (in both kindes) breeding thereby corrupt vapours, to the generall offence of the healthy state of the people, in most places, with sicknesses of diuers qualities, like to cause as well death, as sundry diseases: as paines in the head, neck, bleared eyes, Witches, inflammation of the lungs, pluries, ache of the

A Prognostication.

bzeast, sde and loynes, with goute and pallsies, but especially, such as proceede of coldnes and moysture.

This winter quarter is a season, in qualittie colde and moist, contrary to the condition of sommer, whose enemy (as some Authoꝝ say) hee is found to be, for that in all respects, it differeth in qualittie there-from, and annoyeth or destroyeth those crescent thinges which sommer hath brought forth and nourished, by his kindly heate.

¶ A prediction of the Spring.

Sol in ♀ 8 II.

Though the approach of the sunne from the southerne Tropicke towards our Zenith, the 12 day of March may (in comon reason) assure vs of a milde restraint of winters rigor: yet, I verily suppose, the suddes and dregges of former compounded euills, proceeding of the concourse of malignolent bodieꝝ aboue, will so distemper the beginning of this plausible season, with such interchange of unnaturall weather, as is likely to tend to the hinderance of grasse, hearbes, plants, and trees, and Detriment of cattell, to the griefe of the husbandman, when he shall see the gaine of his travell not to sort, according to his expected hope. The ayre being likely to receiue corruption, by a supposed Earthquake, venting and casting forth, putrified, and noysome exhalations, from the ventricles of the earth, threatneth a sequell of sundry sharpe sicknesses, springing of both kindes of choler, infecting and distemp'ring the blood. Whereby many sharpe (if not pestilentiall) feauers, are like to ensue, besides small poxe, measles, botches, impostumes, & such like, with some other of milder qualittie, as paines in the head, eyes, ioynts, and foete, to raigne chiefly among people of a declining age. And I pray God, that young children may remaine free there-from also, & turne from vs these and all other euills.

¶ A prediction of Sommer.

Sol in ♄ 6 ♀.

The relesse sun hauing performed (this 12 of June) his bittermost progresse, yeelds vs the benenolent beames of his fairest raies, the which (I feare) will often be intertercepted with swelling cloudes, tending to thunder, haile, and vnseasonable cold stormes, farre vnfitting the benigne temperament of sommer season, to no small damage of breeding fowles, kindly blowth of cozne, & ripening of frutes, shortly after to bee gathered: likeli to make heereby scarcitie of well hoped plentie. Yet I hope, that rather couctousnes, then scarcitie, will make them deere, and that dearth, if any be, is liker to grow through the corruption of men, then by the finger of God, which if it so fall out, God grant that Achan, the author of this mischief, may be accordingly rewarded, as Iosua, 7, 25, and not Israell to be plagued for the sinnes of Saul, as Sam. 2.

This season is naturally hote and dry, resembling the element of fire, and complexion of choller, bringing all plants to their perfection, frutes to their ripenes, castell to their best plight and fatnesse, and men to theyr wealth. The sicknesses of this season, are like to be some of those that are before mentioned, as sharpe and hote feavers, waibling of the stomathe, Opthalmies, running eyes, paine in the eares, blisters, soze mouthes, and vncomth sweates.

¶ Predictions of Haruest, or Autume.

Sol in  $\triangle$  m  $\gamma$ .

This time, is by kinde of temperament, colde and dry, helpfull to perfect the karning and ripening of some latter frutes seruing for Roze. But I feare, that many vnexpected, and vnwelcome stormes of thunder, haile, and lightning, & such other gasly weather, is like some thing to crosse this kindly temprature, to the procuring of diuers infirmities, and mortall diseases, chiefly like to affect the rusticall or country people. God for his mercy, grant that faith, pietie, loyaltie, charitie, and compassion, grow not to infidelitie, impietie, disloyaltie, vncharitablenesse, and hard-heartednesse. Thereby incensing the mindes of many to immoderate lust, secret practising of trecherie, and mischief, pilfering, robbing, & spoyling of traueblers and passengers by seas and land, and diuers other enormities. &c. Asi baculum hic figo, et digiro compesco labellū.

Certaine

A Prognostication

Certaine cautions to be considered of in blood-letting, purging, bathing, and sweating.

That letting of blood may be profitable as well to preserve health, as to helpe sicknesse, these thinges are to be considered.

- 1 First, the causes why blood should be let.
- 2 Secondly, the person that is to be letten blood.
- 3 Thirdly, the time generall, and particuler.
- 4 Fourthly, the constitution of the ayre.
- 5 Fifthly, the veyne to be opened.
- 6 Lastly, the quantitie that is to be drawne out.

And it is to be obserued also, that blood is not to be letten out, at any time without bygent occasion, for otherwise, it may cause great weakenesse, and breede many dangerous infirmities. When a veyne is to be opened, let it be done by the aduise of some learned Physitian: it may be doone, if necessitie inforce not the contrary, after good digestion, and fasting in the morning, in a faire temperate day. After blood-letting, auoyde all excesse in eating, drinking, labouring, sleeping, &c.

Ad tridun in veneris, concubitusque fuge.

These signes are generally holden good to let blood in, namely, Aries, Libra, Sagittarius, and Pisces.

Particularly, as for those that bee cholericke, doe it when the moone runneth in Cancer, Scorpius, and Pisces.

For those that bee Slegmaticke, the moone in Aries, and Sagittarius.

For melancholike persons, in Libra and Aquarius.

For the sanguine complexion, all the former signes are indifferent good.

¶ Of Purging.

¶ In purging, consider of these thinges following.

1 First, of the strength of the partie, that thereby may be known, what dose or quantity of medicine he may take.

2 Second-

2 Secondly, the humour which offendeth is to be knowne, as whether it be choler, flegme, or melancholie, or whether any of these simple, or mixt.

3 Thirdly, what part of the bodie is diseased, is also to be looked vnto: for agreeable thereto must the medicine be prepared.

4 Lastly, it is to be well considered, how the matter of sending may most readily be brought forth, as whether by purging downward, or by vomit, by urine, or sweat, for by euery of these orderly bled, ease and remedie is to be had.

Good signes for purging generally, are when the moone runneth in Cancer, Scorpius, and Pisces.

Particularlie, as with potions and drinckes, when the moone runneth in Scorpius.

With	{ Electuaries. Pilles. Vomits.	{ the moone running in	{ Cancer. Pisces. Aries, Taurus, and Capricorne.
------	--------------------------------------	---------------------------	---

Take gargarismes, the moone in Aries and Cancer.

Take preparatiues, when the moone runneth in Gemini, Libra, Aquarius.

Take Clysters, when the moone runneth in Libra and Scorpius.

Stop and stay remedies and laskes, when the moone runneth in Taurus, Virgo, and Capricornus.

For vsing of topickall medicines, as ointments, plasters, and such like, let the moone runne in that signe, which gouerneth the member or part of the body, that is to be annointed, or plastered.

¶ Of Bathing.

The best time in the yere to enter into Bathes, is from the beginning of May, vnto the end of September.

The best times in the day, are morning and evening, but after some exercise, and purging of the body, and alwayes wayes about three or foure houres befoze meate, & when the sunne is of a good height. that the miste, and other corrupt exhalations, may first be drawne by fro the earth.

A Prognostication.

¶ It is not good to bathe, when the moone runneth in Taurus, Virgo, and Capricornus, the reason is, because these signes are of a colde and dry nature: and the nature of cold is to congregate and binde, so that the moone running in these signes, the pores of the body are closed and shut, and then no good resolution of the humors and superfluities, can be duly made, which by bathing are to be let out and auoyded. Tanst. fol. 57.

But in the fierie signes, as Aries, Leo, and Sagittarius, then it is a good time for bathing, because the body is then apt to resolution, and it is the nature of heate to open and resolve. And it is best to bath two or three dayes after the change, and at the full of the moone, for then the superfluities are apter and readier to issue and flow out, which in deede is the effect and end of bathings. Tanst. fol. cod.

¶ In the time of the pestilence, or when any other epidemical or infective sicknesses doe raigne, all bathings must be utterly forborne.

¶ If any will enter into Bath for cleanliness, let the moone runne in Libra or Pisces.

¶ Of sweating, with the commoditie and order thereof.

¶ Sweat is the excrement of that which is made after concoction in each part of mans body. Dorefferus, fol. 56.

Of sweats there are divers sorts, as Sudor indicatorius, and Symptomaticus. Of the which two, I mind not to speake now, for they are (respectively) to be judged and discerned onely by the learned Physicians.

But

But there are naturall and artificiall sweats; of the which I will speake briefly.

The first called naturall, is when men do sweat voluntarily, without force of medicine, or other artificiall helpe, as hote drinke, stone, or hote house. This kind of sweat, if it flow accordingly, openeth the pores, dissolueth grosse humors, clenseth the blood, comforteth the spirits, putteth away cold, consumeth raw humors, strengtheneth sinews, shortneth feavers, helpeth croumes, the dropsie, & the pe-silence.

The second kind of sweating being artificiall, is raised by stoues, bathes, or with hote water, in bladders or bottles, with hote stones wrapped in cloathes, applied to the fecte, and other parts of the body being in bed: also with moyst bathes of herbes, or with perfumes, and such like. And this sweat hath vertue to cleanse scabbes, to helpe the itch, Naples buttons, & such other, as by experience and daily practise, is now adayes knowne and seene.

And note, that in sweating, it is better to sweat at evening, then in the morning, for when the body hath nourishment, within, the spirits shall not so easily be drawne forth to the extreame parts.

More further, & such as haue leane, dry, or feeble bodies, must sweat little, for it will hurt them much, but fat folks may sweat well, and it will helpe them greatly: howe be it, strong sweats, and often, are not good for the eyes.

Sweat, saith Hipocrates, is commendable in sharpe Agues in the dayes of Crisis, or iudgement of the sicknesse, but in the contrary it is euill: as when sweat is cold, specially in a very sharpe feauer, for then it sheweth that death approacheth, because cold sweats proceed from grosse matter, which ouer-quell'eth the spirits of liuely warmnesse.

Sweat is euill also, when it is about the head, face, or neck, onely, although it be not cold.

The best time, or meetest signes to sweat in, is whē the moone hath her course in Aries, Leo, and Sagittarius.

Vrina et sudor, vomitus, deiection ventris,

Sanguis, apostema, hæc numerantur critica signa.

ARt gathreth the predictions of weathers alteration :

According as the starres doe take their diuers figuration :

And (restlessly) doe runne their race
through stations of the Sky,

As it to them appointed is,
by mightie Ioue on hie.

If weather (alwaies) fall not out
as arte from starres doth show,

That starres are but Gods instruments
we (streight) must learne to know :

Who cannot yeeld they influence
in other sort to vs,

Then God aboue (who ruleth all)
shall by his will discusse.

Nothing so firmly fixed is,
by force of natures law,

But bend vnto his becke it must,
and alwaies stand in awe.

the sunne was darkned quite,
 About midday : (yet no Eclipse)
 as though it had been night.
 Then blame not Artes predictions,
 Though now and then they misse:
 Art is a thing most excellent,
